

If you are interested in Degree Apprenticeships, below is a variety of useful sites to look at and register on for vacancy updates. You will get regular notifications of current vacancies in the vocational area that you have registered your interest in.

www.getmyfirstjob.co.uk
www.ratemyapprenticeship.co.uk
www.careermap.co.uk
www.damartraining.com/legap-apprenticeships www.engineering-apprenticeship.co.uk www.gov.uk/find-apprenticeship www.future-talent.com
www.Prospect.ac.uk

UCAS has Degree Apprenticeship vacancies on its site too so definitely worth looking on.

Employers websites e.g. Rolls Royce, Accenture, Amazon, Barclays, EDF, Goldman Sachs, Jaguar Land Rover, KPMG, Morisons, Transport for London (TfL) County Police Forces, BAE Systems, BBC, Sky TV, Chanel 4, Nestle, Visa Europe Digital & Technology, PWC, NHS, Siemens and many of the major banks, legal firms, finance companies, software and IT firms, retail, engineering, constructions and many other companies offer apprenticeship routes into employment and professional careers so start your research.

Job sites

Indeed.uk
Totaljobs.uk

Please be aware that this is you looking for a job with training and you need to be constantly looking for vacancies and closing dates. Look at the application process and upskill yourself in presentation skills, learn some buzz words including:

- Critical thinking and problem solving.
- Creative thinking
- Teamwork and collaboration.
- Professionalism and strong work ethic.
- Oral and written communications skills.
- Analytical and quantitative skills
- Adaptability and flexibility
- Leadership
- Interpersonal and emotional intelligence skills

Be very careful about social media because employers will look on FB, Instagram and other social media platforms before offering appointments.

Don't hesitate to contact me for support and remember you can apply for apprenticeships and university if you are undecided on your next steps.

Miss Hope - chope@lrgs.org.uk

